What's In Your Backyard !

Our sincere thoughts go out to all who might have families affected with the recent natural disasters

We decided to highlight some pointers which could preserve your investment you if these events should affect us locally.

Pointers on proper care of your outdoor living space:

- Tie down any loose patio chairs and tables.
- Close off any gas lines feeding bbq's or fire effects.
- Shut off any water lines to sinks or ice makers.

Pointers on proper care of your waterscape:

- Trim dead branches over all: water features, slides, or grottos.
- Change battery back up in irrigation clock to preserve settings if power is out.
- Clean out debris and examine liner prior to restarting for potential damage.
- Exam safety cover after storm to avoid further tears in cover.

Pointers on proper care or your courts/playsets:

- Take down all tennis nets, putting green flags and accessories as they could get air borne.
- Tie down any theming accents that are more for aesthetics then structural.
- Exam all zip lines on trees, and be sure to clean debris after storm on putting greens and courts to avoid further possible damage.

Coming up Next Month:

Building Extreme Water Features:

- How do we design them?
- How long would it take to finish?
- How far will you travel to build an extreme waterfall?
